

Media Permission

EBLS has a strong tradition of 'community' through both print and online sources. EBLS maintains a strong online presence through the use of 'official' EBLS media channels. Such media may include, but is not limited to: photographs of class or school activities, videos of school activities, creative or informational writing done by your student, artwork created by your student, multimedia projects created by your student or other items deemed appropriate by EBLS faculty and staff. Media may be used for instructional purposes as part of our mission to train new educators enrolled in Utah State University education courses. Any items that are published will follow general EBLS policy. Additionally, any media published online will, at a minimum, omit student last names and abide by generally accepted guidelines for student internet safety.

I, of my own free will, allow my child and his/her work to be photographed, videotaped, or digitally scanned for use by the school. I understand that this media may be used for educational purposes, school and/or university promotions, and will not be used for profit.
